

Why doesn't this exist...?

Well it should and we should make it....

Industry veterans Connor Drexler and Megan & Ryan Glaab have crafted the best hand held beverages to hit the market in a long...long time.

NOMIKAI

A drink in the company of friends.

Nomikai was born three years ago in the desert when I wanted a good rose to pair with watching the sunset with friends. We created Nomikai as a portable rose that winemakers, Megan and Ryan Glaab, and I would be proud to have with our friends.

I grew up going to National Parks so sustainability was always important. Aluminum cans are one of the most sustainable packaging materials available with nearly infinite recyclability and a fraction of the carbon footprint from transportation.

Even the handles are made from Post-Consumer Recycled material and are 100% Recyclable

- Connor Drexler

Slightly fizzy, enormously gulppable.

It's here to stay and should be a fixture in the hands of those who care and those who share.
